A HILLWOODS DIGEST

A Message from the Principal

Dear Students,
Congratulations on your hard-earned success! Your dedication and perseverance have brought you this far, and I am truly proud of each one of you. As we step into this new session, let us embrace fresh opportunities, set new goals, and strive for excellence in everything we do. May this year be filled with learning, joy, and remarkable achievements. Keep shining and make the most of every moment!

Wishing you all a fantastic year ahead!

Guiding the Way: Orientation for a Bright Start

Hillwoods School conducted orientation sessions for students of all classes and new parents this month. These sessions provided valuable insights into the academic journey, school policies, and upcoming opportunities, ensuring a smooth and informed start to the year.

Through a Student's Eyes

BOOK REVIEW ON :- IKIGAI : FOR TEENS

"Ikigai for Teens" by Hector Garcia and Francesc Miralles is a thoughtful and engaging guide that introduces young readers to the Japanese concept of *ikigai*—the idea of finding purpose and fulfilment in life. The book uses relatable language, personal stories, and practical exercises to help teens explore their passions, talents, and values. It encourages them to discover a balanced, meaningful life by combining what they love, what they're good at, what the world needs, and what they can be paid for. With its insightful approach and easy-to-follow advice, this book is a great resource for teens seeking direction and motivation during a time of personal growth.

THE POWER OF INTROVERTS: QUIET BUT MIGHTY!

When you think of a leader, a creative genius, or a deep thinker, you might picture someone outgoing and bold. But did you know that some of the most brilliant minds—like Albert Einstein, J.K. Rowling, and Elon Musk—are introverts?

Introverts aren't shy; they simply recharge by spending time alone rather than in crowds. They thrive in quiet settings, prefer deep conversations over small talk, and are amazing listeners. Their ability to focus deeply helps them excel in creative and academic pursuits.

So, if you're an introvert, embrace your strengths! And if you know one, appreciate their quiet brilliance. Sometimes, the loudest minds aren't the ones making the most noise—they're the ones thinking the deepest.
